

D. A. R. WILL EDUCATE VETERANS' CHILDREN

Will Establish School for Descendants of Revolutionary Patriots—Red Cross Fund Grows.

A school in the South for the education of the descendants of revolutionary patriots is the latest patriotic endeavor of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The fund for this purpose has already been started, and $250 has been placed in the hands of the treasurer general, Mrs. Joseph S. Randall, as a nucleus.

The State of North Carolina has offered the D. A. R. the historic John Paul Jones House and 12 acres of land as a site for the school. Other offers will be made in the near future, and the national board at its meeting January 19 will consider the matter thoroughly.

Mrs. William C. Manning, president general and other members of the national board are enthusiastic over the new venture and believe that the country will be benefited by it. A feature of the school will be vocational and agricultural work, and thus the expense for the children will be as small as possible. The work is under the direct care of the Daughters' Memorial School Committee, of which Mrs. Della Granger Smith is chairman.

Mrs. J. C. Smith, State regent, and Mrs. J. C. Smith, State regent, of Maryland, are enthusiastic over the project. It has been found that many young descendants of revolutionary patriots in various parts of the country are without means of education and that the D. A. R. could do much to help them.

The D. A. R. has a long history of patriotic work and has been successful in many of its projects. It has a large fund of money and is able to do much for the country. The new school is a most important project and will do much to help the young descendants of revolutionary patriots.

WOMAN WINS CONTENTION.

Mrs. McCreary Can Keep $2,011 Received from Bankruptcy Petitioners.

Mrs. Howard N. McCreary, formerly clerk of the United States District Court for the western district of Missouri, may retain $2,011, which represents her profits from fees taken from petitioners in bankruptcy, according to a decision by the United States District Court.

The auditor for the State and other departments ruled that she must pay the government the unpaid balance from the fees, but Comptroller Downey said that in the absence of a statute commanding such payment she may retain her profits.

BROKERS' TRIAL NOT SET.

Henry and Woodruff Have Several Days to Decide on Their Course.

Date for the trial of J. William Henry and Benjamin Woodruff, of the banking firm of Lewis Johnson and Company, charged by the grand jury recently with embezzlement and larceny after trust, has not been set. Attorneys for the defendants have twenty days from December 22 to decide on what action they will take in the case.

It is probable, however, that counsel for Henry and Woodruff will bring a demurrer to the indictments. District Attorney Laskey is ready for the prosecution and should attorneys for the defendants attempt to quash the indictment he will oppose them.

The D. A. R. has a long history of patriotic work and has been successful in many of its projects. It has a large fund of money and is able to do much for the country. The new school is a most important project and will do much to help the young descendants of revolutionary patriots.

PLEDGE LOYALTY TO RAILWAY EXECUTIVE

Accounting Department Sends Best Wishes to President Harrison on Scroll of Fine Parchment.

Pledging loyalty, co-operation, and good will to the management of the Southern Railway Company, 1,000 employees of the company's accounting department, through a committee of nine delegates selected to represent each branch of the department, tendered to President Fairfax Harrison an expression of gratitude for the Christmas greeting which he sent to each officer and employee of the road, and expressed good wishes for the president's personal and official welfare during 1915.

The greeting from the employees themselves was on fine parchment, in penwork of perfect art. It bore the personal signature of every employee of the accounting office. Addressed to "Mr. Fairfax Harrison, President," the message from the employees reads as follows: "We, the clerical forces of the accounting department, have construed the Christmas greeting contained in your message of December 24 as a personal and an individual matter, as well as an expression of peace and good will from our chief executive. Its motive and its intent appeal to us individually and collectively, and for it we thank you."

"If our aid, through efficient and co-operative service, will insure your success, it would be idle to wish, for the interests you represent, a prosperous New Year."

"Personally, we wish you good health and happiness. Officially, we feel that success is assured."

Record of Lead Produced.

The year 1914 marked a record in the production of lead in the United States. The Geological Survey announced yesterday, the year's output being nearly 100,000 tons more than any preceding year. At the same time the average price was the lowest since 1898.

Helping French Sufferers.

The shipment of 100 boxes of absorbent cotton and twenty-two boxes of hospital and surgical supplies to Pau, France, where the American Red Cross maintains two hospital units, was announced yesterday at the Red Cross headquarters here. The organization has six surgeons and twenty-four nurses at Pau. A contribution of $200 was received from American residents of Bombay, India.

SAFETY OF SOCIETY ABOVE FREE SPEECH

Civic Body's Committee Says Speakers Should Be Stilled When They Militate Against Government.

That the provisions for free speech in the Constitution are not absolute and that the restrictions placed on this right in the past have not been unconstitutional is the decision of the committee of legal authorities of the National Civic Federation.

The committee holds in its report that the determining factor in this problem; in other words, that there is no such thing as free speech when such speech threatens public safety or militates against public convenience.

Complaints of street speakers who have been silenced by the enforcement of various city ordinances and regulations have formed a large part of the field for the committee's investigations. These complaints have claimed that their constitutional rights have been invaded by the ordinance, but the committee holds that decisions of courts and common sense prove that no one has the right to monopolize the public streets.

One of the cases cited is that in which the I. W. W. of San Diego complained against city laws being invoked to prevent their street meetings and another is that of the woman who, during a Democratic meeting in Brooklyn in 1912, tried to draw President Wilson, then a candidate for the Presidency, into a discussion of the suffrage question. The courts held that the woman had willfully tried to disturb a public meeting and that her complaint against being ejected from the meeting, arrested and fined was groundless.

THE JANUARY REDUCTION SALES AFFORD UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITIES

In order that the "new leaves" we turn this first month in the year may be as clean as possible, we all, to a greater or less degree, pause and "take stock" of our modes of living.

So, in business, the time for "taking stock" is here, and each department manager wants to show the cleanest sheets when inventory is ended. To accomplish this radical price cuts have been made on everything in the store.

This week we present the most extraordinary values in Linens, Bed Coverings, Rugs and Lace Curtains.

It is decidedly worth your while to investigate these values, every one of which is our regular high-class goods—all guaranteed to be

The Linen Sale in the Linen Shop

Every piece mentioned in the appended list comes from such famous Linen Manufacturers as John S. Brown & Sons, McCrum, Watson & Mercer, York Street Flax Spinning Co., of Belfast, Ireland, and other well-known makers.

These and others have helped to make this the Most Notable Linen Sale of Washing.

Notwithstanding foreign conditions, our assortments are most complete, as our orders were placed far enough in advance to insure safe arrival.

Special emphasis is laid upon the fact that these are not sale goods, but they are regular stocks, carried by us and regularly used by you.

Goods that carry our unreserved guarantee. These facts combined with the fact that linens are daily becoming higher priced and more scarce, should urge you to provide generously for future necessities.
